TRUE Temperance

Is not signing a pledge or taking a solemn oath that cannot be kept, because of the non-removal of the cause—liquor. The way to make a man temperate is to kill the desire for those dreadful artificial stimulants that carry so many bright intellects to premature graves, and desolation, strike and unhappiness into so many families.

Respectful Brown's Iron Bitters, a true non-alcoholic tonic, made in Baltimore, Md. by Dr. J. C. Brown Chemical Company, who are old druggists and in every particular reliable, will, by removing the craving appetite of the drunkard, and by curing the nervousness, weakness, and general ill health resulting from intemperance, do more to promote temperance, in the strictest sense, than any other means now known.

It is a well authenticated fact that many medicines, especially 'bitters,' are nothing but cheap whiskey vilely concocted for use in local option countries. Such is not the case with Brown's Iron Bitters. It is a medicine, a cure for weakness and decay in the nervous, muscular, and digestive organs of the body, producing good, rich blood, health and strength. Try one bottle. Price $1.00.

HOPING FOR AN EMPIRE

The French Royalists are evidently living in the hope that the Chinese row may result in the upsetting of the Republic and the turning over of the government to them. The dispatches to-day say that the Union, the organ of the Legitimists, has ceased publication. The farewell address says the paper's mission ended with the death of the Count de Chambord. It salutes Count de Paris as the head of the house of France and hopes he will restore to Christians the traditional monarchy. The general public is regarded to be more than ever bent on peace and should the negotiations with China collapse it is thought the government will not survive the meeting of the Chambers 24 hours.

BLAINE ON BUTLER.

Blaine was called upon regarding the story published purporting to give his views touching Butler's political future. Blaine said he rarely noticed sensational paragraphs of any kind, but he would in this case say that the views attributed to him were precisely the reverse of those he held. He did not believe Butler could be re-elected Governor of Massachusetts and had the fullest confidence that a Republican President would be chosen next year. The Republican party, he added, will be far stronger in the elections of '83 than either in '77 or '79.

The Bob-Tailed Car Condemned.

At the inquest held on the body of Henry Murphy, a boy six years old, who was run over by a one-horse street car and killed, the Coroner's jury took the occasion to strongly condemn the bob-tail cars, inasmuch as they impose double duty on the driver. In their verdict, they held the Street Car Company responsible for the accident; that in compelling the driver to act both as driver and conductor, they imposed too much work upon him, thus endangering the lives of pedestrians.

Proposed Consolidation.

CONCORD, September 12. The Senate Judiciary Committee has under consideration a bill incorporating what will be called the Southern Pacific Company, by the provisions of which any railroad, or steamboat, or lands in the United States may be purchased by the company with the right to increase the capital stock to a limited extent, by a vote of the parties interested. The corporations named are Charles Pierce, C. Crocker, M. Hopkins and Isaac E. Galt, attorney to Governor Stanford, who are said to control the California system. Pierce, who testified before the committee, stated that it was proposed, if the bill became a law, to consolidate the Louisiana Western, Texas & New Orleans, Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio, Houston & Texas, Central, and other railroads, as well as steamboat lines, having an aggregate capital of upward of $50,000,000, besides owning 6,000,000 acres of land in Texas.

Held a Long While.

HARTFORD, September 13. The estate of Daniel Wadsworth, held in trust since his death in 1848, has just been distributed for the benefit of the heirs. The estate ($223,000) was the largest in the city at that time. Over $135,000 has been paid in annuities, and the amount now distributed is $88,000. The estate was to be held in trust during the lives of the testator's nephews and nieces, of whom Mrs. Dr. Bacon was the last, dying in 1882. Daniel Wadsworth was a son of Colonel Jeremiah Wadsworth, Commissary General of the Revolutionary army. His successor in that office was Ephraim Blaine, grandfather of James G. Blaine.

A Fatal Blow at Church.

LOVELADY, Texas, Sept. 12. Last night, two miles west of here, Thomas Smith went into a church while religious services were in progress, slightly intoxicated, and stepped on the toes of one Brown, the clergyman's son. A few words passed, but the matter was dropped until after the services, when it was renewed, and Smith was stabbed and instantly killed. Brown's brother and also the Rev. B. D. Brown, his father, are supposed to be implicated, and will be arrested.

Wendell Phillips Denies.

BOSTON, September 13. Wendell Phillips is ill to-day, but when asked what he had to say about the report that he had become dissatisfied with the methods of Governor Butler, wrote in reply: "If I prepare anything, I'll hand it to you to-morrow, but it will be a denial. I have not changed my mind." It is said, however, despite Phillips' continued fidelity, that Greenbackers are leaving the admiration since he told them last year that their party was dead.

An Irrepressible Nuisance.

WICHITA, Sept. 13. Daniel L. Payne and party were arrested here to-day for conspiracy to violate the law by settling on lands in Indian Territory, that Payne and his companions have three times been expelled from by order of the President. Payne has been costing the government many thousand dollars annually for three years, annoying its officers, and it seems attorney Howell has become tired of so much foolishness and is determined on radical measures.

A Stranded Steamship.

FREEPORT, L. I., September 13. The National steamship Independent, from Pullman, drove on the shore at Jones inlet this morning at 4:30, during a fog and a high sea. She was loaded with 100 tons of sulphur, 100 boxes of lemons and oranges, and has about 100 passengers and crew on board. The captain thinks if the weather holds as it was this morning she is in a very dangerous position. The wife and children of the American Consul at Cadiz, Spain, are on board.

A Fruitless Search.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., September 13. The United States Greeley relief steamer Yantic has just anchored here. Her tidings are lamentable, no word has been received from Greeley or any of his party. The steamer Proteus was crushed in a floe of ice at the entrance to Smiths Sound, July 25, and Captain Pike, his crew and scientific party, arrived as passengers on the Yantic.

Boston Republicans.

BOSTON, September 12. The Republican caucuses in all wards in this city to nominate delegates to the State Convention are generally well-attended, quiet and unanimous. So far as preferences are given, the delegates favor Henry L. Pierce for Governor, as the best man to beat Butler.

A Texas Fight.

GALVESTON, September 13. At Trinity, yesterday, Major H. B. Hurlock, a large mill-owner, and his son 22 years old, were shot by a man named Raseman, one of their employes, aged 23. W. H. Hurlock is now dead, and the father's wounds are probably mortal. A young son of Major Hurlock had been annoying Raseman, who in endeavoring to make him desist, accidentally injured the child's foot. Major abused Raseman, but he declined to resent it. Major then called his son to come out and whip Raseman. The son's blows quickly put Raseman on the guard, when he drew a revolver and shot his adversary in the head and heart. Major was returning for a pistol and Raseman shot him also, then calmly went up stairs and procured an additional six-shooter and barricaded himself. The mill men armed and gathered around the premises, and after filling Raseman with shot, secured him.

Cholera Next Year.

CHICAGO, September 13. The Daily News publishes a large number of letters from the physicians of this city, in answer to the circular asking their opinion as to the probability of a cholera epidemic in this country next year, or within a few years. The most of them anticipate more or less cholera in this country next year, and urge the necessity of a thorough observance of sanitary precautions, both municipal and personal.

A Rapid Air Current.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Sept. 13. At Smithville the wind reached a velocity of 93 miles an hour, for seven hours, and many houses were unroofed, wharves washed away and fisheries seriously damaged. All the pilot boats were blown ashore, and one sunk. Of the many vessels in the harbor, only two held their anchorage. The oldest pilots say that in duration and violence the storm was the worst ever known.

NEWPORT, September 13. Lord Chief Justice Coleridge was given a banquet and reception at Cassino to-day, which was attended by many prominent people. Judge Samuel Blatchford delivered the address of welcome, to which Coleridge feelingly replied. The theater in which it was held was beautifully decorated.

A USEFUL INVENTION.

A Diamond Drill and Boring Safety Machine.

This morning's Virginia Enterprise says: Gilbert McOm Ross and Daniel Grant, mining engineers of this city, have received a patent for what they call "A Diamond Drill and Well-Sinking or Boring Safety Machine." The apparatus is so constructed that it restrains the pressure of water, oil or gas, allowing the drill to be sent forward, no matter how much water may be encountered. At the same time that the water is kept back provision is made through certain cocks and valves for obtaining samples of the drillings. Attached to the machine is a pressure gauge by which the pressure may be constantly seen. In case of the pressure being sufficient, a pipe may be attached to the machine and the extra water carried to a level above and discharged into a tank while the work of drilling is carried on. With this machine it will be impossible to flood a mine. If it is desired to plug a drill hole it can easily be done by detaching and leaving in its portion of the sleeve of the apparatus. The whole thing is quite cheap, and may be fitted up at any machine shop. The necessary valves and gas pipe can be bought at any good hardware store, when there is nothing to be done but fit the several parts together.

What a Beautiful Waist Costs.

The editor of the Truth has been photographing some of the girls he knows, and here is the picture of one of them: Letitia has a waist. It is her great point, and she is proud of it. Well, she may be, for it is the result of patient years of pain. She has laid on the shrine of that little waist many precious things—good health, good temper and good spirits. Having sacrificed the first, the two others followed as a matter of course. But then it is a most wonderful waist! It cannot measure more than 17 inches, at the very most. The pressure has made her nose permanently red. Not all the waters of Araby would make that nose white again.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Something of What is Going on in the Gold Mines and on the Mountain Ranches.

From a well known citizen of Reno, who recently returned from a trip through portions of Sierra and Plumas counties, the GAZETTE is able to furnish its readers with the following: In Sierra, Mohawk, Genesee, Indian and American valleys the grain crop was about an average, but the yield of hay exceeds any crop raised for several years. Farmers generally found great difficulty in procuring help to secure their crops in proper season, thereby suffering considerable loss, as some of the grain became so ripe that it shelled while being handled. Many of the farmers have small dairies, from which is produced a surplus of the best butter made on the Pacific coast; the rich pasturage of the high mountain valleys being peculiarly adapted to the production of this indispensable article of food. The mining interests of this section are not as active as heretofore, but all seem to have an abiding faith in their richness and durability. The Quinn mine is running with two shifts, and considerable good ore is being extracted, which is now being worked by the company's mill. This is an old mine, having been worked for 15 or 20 years, and producing large returns for labor and outlay. The Green Mountain Company is running with a full force, and is taking out its usual amount of ore, which is being worked at their mills, one of which contains 60, and the other 30 stamps. Both of these mills have been recently furnished with all the latest improved machinery for saving gold, and are now considered as good as any in the State. A tunnel, which it will take about three months longer to complete, will tap the ledge 400 feet lower than it has ever been prospected, and should present expectations be realized, the mine will hereafter be worked through this tunnel, bringing the ore directly to the 60-stamp mill. The Crescent mine, immediately below, has, for the present, suspended operations, except the keeping of their pump running, to keep the mine clear of water. This, also, is an old mine, having been worked for many years, having produced over a million dollars, and is still considered by some to be the richest mine in Plumas county.

The Indian Valley Company is running with a full force, both in the mine and mill, although the affairs of this company cannot be said to be running very smoothly; the party in possession claiming that misrepresentations were made at the time of purchase, and decline to pay the last $25,000 of the purchase price, although the lower court has confirmed the sale.

The Plumas-Eureka, with its usual force and energy, is mining and milling its usual quantities of ore, as their monthly shipments of gold will verify.

The Four Hill mine, with the best and latest improved machinery, is startling everybody with its productions. Wood and water being plenty and cheap, their facilities for mining and milling cannot well be excelled. It is claimed that the company can mine and mill their ore for two dollars per ton, and some think it can be done for even less. In addition to the above, there are many less pretentious mining enterprises being carried on by people of moderate means. In many places the arastra is being run with profit, furnishing employment to a large number of men, some of whom are becoming rich.

AN UNAPPRECIATED HERO.

The Mistake Made in the Estimation of the Mustang.

A prominent cattle man and a well-known writer on stock, recently found themselves in accord in the proposition that cattle at horse men were making a mistake in breeding out the California Mustang blood from their cattle-horse. The cattle man, who was Hock Mason, said that he had never found a horse that had the powers of endurance coupled with agility and intelligence. The writer, who was Mr. Williams of the Breeder and Sportsman, said that the same fact was being impressed upon cattle men all over California. The American or English horse is not sufficiently self-reliant to make a good animal for the range. He looks too much to his rider for guidance, and is therefore, he does not turn as quick nor get over rough ground as easily for himself or the man on his back, as the mustang. The latter has many generations of wild life behind him, to say nothing of several years in early life spent loose among the hills, where he learned to leap over the rocks and fly from real or fancied dangers, with no hand to guide him and no one but himself to rely on. It is said that the native cattle horse is becoming scarce, and his value is increasing. Much pains is being taken to cross the breed with American horses, that a genuine Spanish horse is going up in value and held in high esteem. It is predicted that they will sell for higher figures in the next five years than they ever have before.

Nickel Prediction.

The total nickel production for 1892 was 231,616 pounds, the value of which is $306,777—or one dollar and ten cents per pound.

FOXTAIL ON THE FARM.

How to Kill it Off at Very Little Expense.

The Rural Press is good authority on such matters as the following, and is doubtless correct: Along the fence, where the plow cannot reach grows foxtail. By wind or otherwise it manages to get its seed well scattered among the alfalfa. Cold and abundant rain makes the foxtail grow rapidly, and renders the alfalfa nearly dormant. Before the warm sun of April can prepare the alfalfa ready to be made into hay, the foxtail has perfected its seed and it stands with its stiff, barbed spikes erect and defiant of any masticating or digesting apparatus ever invented for the ruminating creature. In spite of any precaution, enough spikes will shell out to seed the ground and enough remain fixed to spoil the hay. Apply water in the spring and the seed of foxtail will not grow. It seems to have an instinctive knowledge that the second crop of alfalfa would smother it. Just before or after the first rains harrow in 30 or 40 pounds of wild-oat seed to the acre. During winter the oats and foxtail make about an even growth, but the first warm days of spring give to the oats an energy by which the foxtail is deprived of food below and sunshine above and perishes without leaving a seed or even a spike. The ammonia generated by decayed portions of the alfalfa stimulate greatly the growth of the oats and thereby the crop of hay is much greater than oats and alfalfa would make grown separately, and the quality of the hay for general purposes is superior. The man who has foxtail or worthless weeds growing where he cannot reach them with a plow, should go at once to where the threshing machines are separating wild oats and secure enough to occupy such land. The value of the hay thus secured had better be sent as a subscription to the best local agricultural paper.

DEATH ON THE DESERT.

The Colorado Desert Claims Another Victim.

The Pioche Record says: Another unfortunate has perished. A man by the name of Oscar Baker, who was making the trip from New York district, Cal., to El Dorado canyon, perished for the want of water when within two miles of the canyon. There is a stretch of barren country about 80 miles in length, between the two points named, without water. There used to be a small spring midway, but it has been dry this summer. Baker, not knowing that the spring was dry, started to walk this 80 miles, and when within a short distance of his journey's end perished. Some four or five days after Baker started another man started across the same trail on a mule, and came near perishing also. On his arrival at the canyon he reported about Baker having started for that place, and upon learning that Baker did not arrive there, stated that he smelt a fearful stench about three miles out, while he was riding during the night. Lewis and another man then went out where the stranger said he smelt the stench, and found the body of Oscar Baker, which was taken and buried.

Striking Stringers.

The tunnel at Pyramid is becoming interesting. At a distance of 1050 feet from the mouth a four-inch vein was out, that assayed $1,593 to a ton, and 15 feet further a six-foot vein of ledge matter was struck. It is quartz and porphyry mixed. Since that they have run for a week in the same hard rock they had before. These stringers must go through the Doane claim and would be worth prospecting.

Another Valuable Prize.

Colonel Boyle offers as a prize to be shot for on the occasion of the approaching inter-State match an epergne, representing in oxidized silver the Queen of Sheba supporting a silver fruit dish or card receiver. It is exhibited in the window of the jewelry store of M. M. Fredrick, in Virginia City, and is a prize well worth contending for.

BEECHER'S THEORY.

The Chinaman Evolving Downward Instead of Up.

James Dow attacks Beecher in the Bulletin, and proves that the Chinaman has, by inverted evolution, become entirely destitute of a soul. The difference between a Chinaman and a barbarian is this: The barbarian has a soul in embryo; his soul will grow as he advances in civilization. The Chinese soul is worn out, and cannot be restored. Under Confucius, China was the mental light of the world. That light has burnt out its last flickering long ago, and China is morally dead, and a burnt out wick. It is the common belief that the immortal soul is indigenous to the human body. Never was there a greater mistake. The immortal soul is essentially an exotic. In divine economy there are but three elements to constitute a human soul, that is worth, pathos and melody. No man ever saw these elements in barbarians or Chinese. The writer has seen multitudes of our aborigine mothers under circumstances of affliction, that would wring tears from a Christian mother's heart, but they could not cry, because they had no soul and did know God. Nobody ever saw a Chinaman cry, laugh or sing.

The writer has often seen them beaten with stones, and bleeding, and has often profaned them. They will bellow like an animal, but they will not cry. No man ever heard a Chinaman laugh, because there is no divine fountain in his heart to flow. He will grin and express an animal smile, but a tear only comes from the fountain of the soul. When the Christian heart is afflicted with weighty woes, it would break if it was not for the safety valve of the eye-lid, that lets flow the liquid anguish in silver beads, and the soul is relieved. But there is no heartfelt mirth in the heathen. Mirth is a divine attribute, and can only flow from God. On the subject of melody, the writer would say, show me a nation without melody and I will show you a nation without a God. Shakespeare backs me up in that proposition, and old Homer backs up Shakespeare. The Chinese have no melody. The gong is their finest instrument of music, and the sound of a gong to a Christian's ear is about as distressing as a northwestern cyclone to the Christian's heart. The writer is somewhat familiar with the opinions of Chinese missionaries, from the time of Francis Xavier, in the sixteenth century, up to the present hour. All honest missionaries say China is a brand burnt out, and Christianity passive is of no avail.

TRUCKEE ITEMS.

Interesting Cleanings from the Mountains.

The Truckee Republican of September 12 contained the following: G. W. Wiggins, the Tahoe logging contractor, was in town this morning. He says that thus far he has put in about 1,400,000 feet this season. If the season is late as usual he is confident he will be able to double this amount.

The town is still infested with the large gang of tramps whose arrival was mentioned in our last issue. They made an attempt to "stand up" one of our business men, Sunday night, on Front street, but he objected, and as several citizens were standing about 30 yards away, they did not press the matter. From their numbers it would appear that some of our neighboring towns had taken a vomit and thrown all her rough scuff onto us.

Charley Humphreys has presented this office with a large-sized grape shot, which was found at the brick yard on the Donner Lake road. It measured seven inches and a half in circumference, and weighed about three pounds. It was found by Mr. Robb about two feet from the surface, and is considerably rust eaten. It is supposed to have been either shot or left there by General Fremont in 1846. Johnny Meloché also has a smaller grape shot which was found imbedded eight inches deep in a saw log at Glenbrook a few years ago. These are known to have been shot there by General Fremont in 1846. A party were out on the lake near what is now known as Rowland's Station, and General Fremont, like show the ladies how he could out the limbs off the trees with grape shot, fired a shot into the woods. Three large saws were ruined by them at the Glenbrook mill.

Nevada Weather.

People who have traveled over all parts of the world, agree that Nevada has more pleasant days and nights in a year than are enjoyed by the inhabitants of any other place on earth.

Lucky all Round.

Theodore Wintrop's mine in Oriental district, Douglas county, seems to be promising well, from some samples brought in by John Bartlett. The ore is rather base-floated, but is rich.

As a true and efficient tonic, and one that excels all other iron medicines, take Brown's Iron Bitters.

Fall Races.

Ex-Sheriff A. K. Lamb proposes to give a week's racing right after the Mason Valley Fair, which occurs October 16th, 17th, and 18th. Mr. Lamb thinks he can put in a week, beginning October 23d.

A Private Enterprise.

The Denver Tribune has the following to say about what has been known as the Denver Exposition: "Denver has no exposition. There is no such institution in this vicinity in whose management the city has any voice. There is an exposition owned and conducted by four or five gentlemen, only two of whom are Coloradans, but this is purely a private affair. Denver has nothing to do with it at all. The firm owning it can close it up at any time, and this city could not even enter a protest, any more than it could against any individual who was doing as he pleased with his own property." It seems a little strange that the Denver press should have kept the above fact from the public so long, when a word would have saved many people considerable time and money.

Keep it in Mind.

Don't forget the ladies' party to be given at Kimball Hall next Friday evening; it is not an invitation ball, but free to all who love to dance and know how to behave.
